WORLD FLYERS REACH PARIS. NOT TO LINGER

All in Fine Spirits After Weeks of Heavy Strain; Covered 18,000
Miles—Tell of Hardships of Long Journey

MIGHTY RECEPTION

Crowd Covers Field as Planes
Land—Aviators Overcome by Reception—Smith Asks for Olympic Standing

(By the Associated Press)
Paris, July 14. — The United States army flyers who are circling the globe swept over Paris this afternoon and landed safely at Le Bourget airport, 19 days behind their original schedule, but with a gain of 12 days to their credit since they left Tokyo.

The pilots of the three planes and their assistants were in fine health in spite of weeks of heavy strain, but they were tired, and almost overcome by the enthusiasm of their reception.

Six men in all, under command of Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, have come over the long air trail, from the Pacific coast of the American continent to their resting place, a distance of slightly over 18,000 miles in something less than four months. They will not remain here long, but will proceed to London, and from there, flying by way of the Orkney Islands, Iceland, and Greenland, Labrador and Quebec, will go speeding back to the homeland.

First Asks Olympic Standing.

The Stars and Stripes floated in profusion beside the Tri-color as far as the eye could see at Le Bourget, and squadrons of French airplanes were in readiness throughout the day to ascend and accompany the American aviators as soon as the word came that they were approaching Paris.

Lieutenant Smith, Lieutenant Leigh Wade and Lieutenant Erick Nelson, the pilots, with their mechanics, Lieutenant Leslie P. Arnold, Sergeant A. M. Ogden, and Lieutenant John Harding, set forth from Vienna early this morning.

As dawn came, with their French escorts in perfect alignment, they sailed over Le Bourget at 4:45 p. m. and continued onward to circle the Arc de Triomphe and the tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Then, wheeling back from above, Paris, they glided down to the aviation field 10 minutes later. So great were the crowds to welcome them that the small force of guards was overwhelmed, and soon the field was black with people to greet the Americans as they landed, with Lieutenant Smith in the lead, followed closely by the planes of Wade and Nelson.

"This is one of the most agreeable landings yet," remarked Lieutenant Wade, but his chief, Lieutenant Smith, inquired: "How do we stand in the Olympics?"

Lieutenant Smith, though entirely recovered from a former mishap, was visibly in need of sleep, and he insisted that Lieutenant Wade do the talking in reply to the official welcome. This he did briefly, but later told of some of their experiences.

"The snows of Alaska, a sand storm in India, and a semi-shipwreck off the coast of Japan have thus far been the hardest spots in our trip," he said.

Refused Permission to Land.

Off the coast of Russia, the Soviets refused to allow the aviators to land. This was annoying, but not serious, as the Americans had already deplaned and were ready to take off as they received word of the Russians' decision.

This experience, according to Lieutenant Wade, showed the value of forethought in having a supply boat on the spot.

Fog and rain hindered us a bit when approaching France," he continued. "We were obliged to take to the water and Japanese destroyers, leaving our planes to look on the high seas like corkers for 24 hours. They resisted the strain splendidly, and when the tempest went down we got aboard again and took off.

"After changing the engines at Tokyo we made up good deal of time, but we had another hard experience in a sand storm in India, which obliged us to skim the ground at a height of only 500 feet.

"This morning we all got up with the same bright idea in our heads that we were going to get to Paris before the day was over. Our welcome here was more than we dreamed of. Everybody has been kind to us, except the weather, and even in that respect we had better luck than I thought, for the rain only checked the point on our march to the desert regions, while it drove the Japanese flight."

Smith Goes to Bed.

The army aviators have been in the last hours altogether more happy in Los Angeles and they found on the streets that only about one day to go to bed for flying. One of the aviators has his third engine, while the other two have each had four engines. A new motor will be installed in all of them at Le Bourget, and the aviators will leave the city in the morning. Four hours after landing they had returned to their hotel, but were obliged to sleep in the corridors, as the hotel was full.

The four aviators in their flight from Europe to make the demonstration of commercial aviation, which was the purpose of their trip, and appeared to be very much enjoying their trip.

WARREN PREPARES TO RESIGN POST

Object of His Taking Up Duties in Mexico Completed, He Asserts

Mexico City, July 14. — Charles B. Warren, the American ambassador to Mexico, has issued a statement announcing his intention to resign from his post.

The ambassador's statement follows: "I am returning to the United States to resign as ambassador, as the task I came to help is concluded. My mission really commenced last year when I came to Mexico as head of the American mission to negotiate a basis for the resumption of diplomatic relations after which general and special claims conventions were signed.

"Of course there will be no surprise at my resignation, because it was understood that I came to arrive at a basis for a good understanding between Mexico and the United States and not to serve as ambassador when that task was completed. I feel that the work is done and that the agencies created to adjust the claims of citizens of both countries will succeed in their part of the work.

"I will leave July 20, resuming the ambassadorship after conferences with President Coolidge and Secretary of State Hughes. I leave knowing that the present relations between Mexico and the United States are friendly and cordial, both peoples desiring justice in their relations."

DRIVER GUIDES BUS TO SAFETY

Brakes Fail to Work on Hill and Differential Breaks in Shift-

Amsterdam, July 14. — A motor bus operator brought his vehicle safely to a halt here today when the brakes failed to work on a steep hill. The differential was broken in an attempt to shift to a lower gear for safety and the bus coasted four blocks down congested Main street before it lost momentum. One woman was injured, but not critically, when she was struck by the bus and clung to the fender as the vehicle sped down the grade.

The operator, George Mullin, who drives the bus between this city and Amsterdam, was descending the hill at the entrance to this city. When he tried to shift to low gear, the differential broke and he was unable to decrease the vehicle's speed. So he clung to the steering wheel, guiding the bus down the hill.

Part way down Mrs. Elizabeth Homeway of this city got in the path of the bus and was struck. She was not seriously injured, but sufficient presence of mind to cling to a fender and was carried along until the bus stopped, when it was found her leg had been broken.

POLICE GUARD FRENCH FLAG OVER EMBASSY IN BERLIN

Berlin, July 14. — Policemen with rifles from atop the Brandenburg gate and from the roofs of nearby buildings, guarded the flag flying over the French embassy today. The measure was a precautionary one taken to prevent a repetition of the incident of three years ago on the French national holiday when the Tri-color was wrested from the staff by men who reached the embassy roof from adjacent buildings. Other policemen with rifles also marched back and forth directly in front of the embassy where a string of automobiles constantly brought and took away members of the diplomatic corps calling to pay their respects.

The French embassy here hoists its flag only on July 14.

FEDERALS CONTINUE TO SHELL SAO PAULO CITY

(By the Associated Press)
Sao Paulo, July 14. — Advances reported here this evening are to the effect that the federal forces in Brazil are continuing their bombardment of Sao Paulo. Though the shelling is not doing much damage within the city, some shells have fallen within a half-mile of the American consulate, which is located in the business section of the city.

The rebel artillery is reported to have been strengthened through the defection of portions of the federal artillery unit from Santos, which have joined the rebels.

American residents of Sao Paulo are reported to be very nervous and are pressed by the progress made. Lieutenant Wade explained the objects of the trip around the world to the French newspapermen, who were intensely interested in what to them was a nothing entirely new. In answer to their questions Wade said the trip seemed to have demonstrated that Alaska is not a good place for a world tour.

All six Americans wanted to get away early start at sleep tonight and all reported steady progress from various points and directions. Lieutenant Smith, who was the only one who had been in the city, said that the trip seemed to have demonstrated that Alaska is not a good place for a world tour.

TROUBLES REMAIN

Americans to Join in Meetings—
Hope for Real Settlement With in Fortnight—Germany Also Accepted Report

(By the Associated Press)
London, July 14. — The inter-allied conference which will assemble in the foreign office Wednesday for the purpose of putting the Dawes report on reparations into effect, will open in a friendly atmosphere of optimism.

When the tentative arrangements for the meeting were concluded between Premier MacDonald and Herr Hitler at Paris last Thursday, the French premier characterized the occasion as the best day for the entire since the armistice was signed, and today competent American and British observers declared they hoped that within a fortnight the deliberations would be productive of an arrangement which will end once and for all time the quarrels and misunderstandings that have been continuous among the nations of Europe, since the hostilities of the World War ended and the allied powers began their struggle to get war concentration out of Germany.

Americans Give New Hope.

Such hopes as these have been expressed prior to numerous other conferences of the allied statesmen during the last six years, but disappointment followed as the meetings were themselves out or abruptly broke up. The fundamental difficulties of the reparations problem are still unsolved, but the unofficial participation of the United States through the experts who worked in Paris for two months this year to produce the recommendations now unofficially known as the Dawes report, has given new hope to the allies and Germany alike, and launched the seemingly perennial reparations problem on an entirely new phase.

The allies and Germany jumped to accept the experts' report in principle, and on Wednesday Mr. MacDonald, Mr. Herriot, Mr. Thomas, the Belgian premier, and other allied plenipotentiaries, together with Ambassador Keellogg as the official representative of the United States empowered to act in behalf of American interests, will gather around the big horseshoe table in the foreign office to discuss the reparations problem.

Downing street, to give political effect to the businesslike economic analyses of General Dawes and his colleagues.

COOLIDGE TO BE NOTIFIED AUG. 14

Republican Candidate for President to Be Formally Informed of Nomination

Washington, July 14. — President Coolidge will be notified formally of his nomination as Republican presidential candidate at ceremonies to be held here Thursday evening, August 14, in Continental Memorial hall.

Final arrangements were completed today for the notification ceremonies, which were set originally for July 24, but were postponed after the death of the President's son, Calvin, Jr. Invitations to the ceremonies will be sent out tomorrow from the headquarters of the Republican national committee to Republican governors of states, Republican members of congress, and Republican members of the executive committee.

The notification ceremony will be held at the Cleveland convention hall, which will be headed by Frank W. Mondell, the permanent chairman of the convention, who will make the notification.

Speeches will be made by the keynote of the national campaign from the Republican standpoint.

LUKE NOT TO BE CANDIDATE AGAIN; WILL PRACTICE LAW

Cortland, July 14. — State Senator Clayton R. Luke of this city, three times elected from the 19th senatorial district comprising Cortland, Chemung, and Broome counties, stated emphatically today that he will not be a candidate for re-election during the coming campaign. The following statement was made by Senator Luke: "The position of my party leaders here in the New York senate requires more time than I can better afford to give to politics. I intend to devote myself to my law practice which I have been forced to neglect.

"I shall support Roger Wales of Binghamton to succeed myself in the senate. Mr. Wales is chairman of the Broome county Republican committee and corporation counsel of the city of Binghamton."

AUTO HITS TRAIN

Amherst, July 14. — James Bishop of Westport was killed early this morning when an automobile driven by James Bishop crashed into a Westport railroad freight train at the intersection of the two roads.

James Bishop, a passenger in the automobile, was killed instantly. The automobile was crushed and the train was derailed.

The body of the deceased was being held in the county jail for examination.

RECORD "KILLING" MADE ON CORN DEAL

Cutten Backed His Judgment That Corn Would Take Jump from Low Level

Chicago, July 14. — One of the biggest "killings" of the Chicago board of trade in recent years was reported by brokers to have been made today by Arthur W. Cutten, Chicago grain merchant, who sold 3,000,000 bushels of July corn to a glucose concern at a price around $1.10. His profits since corn took a jump of 40 cents from recent low figures were estimated by brokers to-night at between $1,500,000 and $1,800,000.

In addition to his heavy deals in cash corn, Mr. Cutten, who terms himself a "cash grain merchant and dirt farmer," is also credited with having made a large sum on the recent wheat advance from 20 to 25 cents a bushel in the Chicago and Winnipeg markets.

His heavy profits, brokers said, were due to his faith in his predictions he made some time ago, that corn would take a jump. He followed his judgment persistently in his trading, his friends say, despite the fact that he was compelled to take large losses in the wheat market.

He has been forced to pay for 4,000,000 bushels of cash corn bought on contracts for May deliveries.

DAVIS PLANS HIS REVEALING SPEECH

Acceptance Address Will Formally
Open Campaign and Set Forth
His Tactics

New York, July 14. — John W. Davis, Democratic nominee for President, spent today conferring with party leaders from various states preparatory to writing his acceptance address, which will formally open his campaign and reveal the tactics he will follow.

While the nominee has not announced any of his plans in detail, it was learned that the notification ceremony would be held in Clarkstown, W. Va., his birthplace, and probably in the house where he spent his boyhood. The date is likely to be about July 28.

Mr. Davis will finish conference with advisors and Democratic leaders by Friday, then will escape to a small town in West Virginia to begin his campaign.

He will frame his rallying call for the campaign.

Senator R. L. Owen, Oklahoma, supporter of the federal reserve act, called upon the nominee today to urge upon him the importance of emphasizing the Republican party's responsibility for the recent currency deflation.

"According to Senator Owen, 'broke the heart of the west.'"

JUDGE OLVANY NAMED LEADER OF TAMMANY

Appointed to General Sessions
Court by Governor Smith, With Whom He Has Long Been Associated

COMPROMISE CHIEF

Satisfies Opposing Forces Led by
Hylan and Smith and District
Lieutenants, who Insisted on Man from Ranks

New York, July 14. — Tammany hall chose General Sessions Judge George Washington Olvany, today grand chief to succeed the late Charles F. Murphy, and voted its "undivided and loyal support" to the Democratic ticket in the "progressive and forward looking platform" of the National Democratic party.

The vote for Judge Olvany, before it was made unanimous by the 43 men and women representatives of 23 districts, was reported to have been 22-23 to one-third, for Martin G. (Marty) McEue.

"The call is too strong to resist," Judge Olvany told the executive committee of Tammany hall, after he had been escorted to the 14th street wigwam by two veterans of the organization—a man and a woman, both gray haired.

Election a Compromise.

"In a few days I shall resign from the bench and undertake to carry on the work as ably, unselfishly, and successfully performed by Charles F. Murphy for more than 22 years," Judge Olvany's statement continued. "Our first great public duty will be to roll up a great vote for our national ticket."

The election of Judge Olvany, a former district leader of Tammany, was a compromise between the active leader, upon whom the district chiefs insisted, and a man from the ranks, as advocated by those who caused Surrogate Foley's election in May.

That it also was a compromise between the forces of Governor Alfred E. Smith, who appointed Judge Olvany to the bench, and the forces of Mayor Hylan and W. R. Hearst, was seen in this paragraph of the new chief's acceptance speech:

"Mayor Hylan has stood faithfully for the principles he advocated in the last municipal campaign, in which he received an extraordinary vote of public confidence. We should support him fully in carrying out these principles."

18-Hour Gun Battle Ends in Arrest of All After Killing of Officer

Halifax, N. S., July 14. — An 18-hour gun battle starting in the forests of Dutch village, near here, in which one policeman was killed and another probably fatally wounded, culminated tonight in the arrest of William Beavis, local desperado, his sister, Florence, Robert Slaughenwhite and his sister, Ethel.

The shooting started last night when a cottage reported that he was threatened with revolver when he attempted to order the prisoners of his premises.

Halifax police rushed into the forest. A fusillade of bullets killed Officer Stephen Kennedy. The battle raged until noon today, when constabulary of the Canadian National railways reinforced the police and Slaughenwhite and the two girls, each about 15 years old, surrendered.

Trained through the street, Beavis he calmly surrendered when cornered in an apartment house.

SENATOR OUSTED FROM CLUB FOR FIST FIGHT

Washington, July 14. — Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas, was expelled today from the fashionable Chevy Chase Country club as a result of an exchange between him and James F. Mitchell, prominent party leader, who took place at the club.

The club, which was taken over by the board of directors, was announced tonight and followed an inquiry into charges that the senator had struck down the station during an argument over golf equipment. None of the charges appeared before the board but in read presented statements.

The affair occurred at the 15th tee of the club, which is a 27-hole course. Senator Robinson was a member of the club since 1922 and total corporate membership was $10,000. He was a member of the club since 1922 and total corporate membership was $10,000.

The club's income for the year 1923 was $10,000. The club's income for the year 1923 was $10,000.

TRAIN TIES RACE WITH AUTO

Montreal, July 14. — Jennie Shroyer, 8, and her mother, Mrs. Shroyer, were killed today when the driver of their automobile attempted to beat a Canadian Pacific train over a crossing near Shawville.

Two others in the car, Herman Gruver and Louis Golden, also of Montreal, were badly injured.

GIRL, 16, DRIFTS IN BOAT THREE DAYS

Two Boy Companions Try to Swim to Shore as Storm Throws
Them Overboard

Brooklin, Ont., July 14. — Having drifted in a disabled sail boat for three days and nights after her two boy companions were drowned, 16-year-old Margaret Murchison collapsed today as rescuers found her, half-starved, struggling through the marshes skirting Lake Simcoe.

With Wilbur Hopkins and Edgar Smith, the girl set out from Big Bay point last Friday in a light sailing craft. They had reached the middle of the lake when a sudden storm descended upon them, partially overturning the boat and pitching its occupants into the water. Hopkins and Smith, realizing that the disabled craft would not bear them all, shouted to their companion to "hang on," made her adieu, and in the gathering gloom, headed for the distant shore. They sank before they got out of sight, Miss Murchison related.

She rode out the storm in the drifting craft, then for 72 hours drifted about the lake.

Last night the shifting winds grounded the boat on Concord point. Margaret found the girl there, clinging and stumbling her way toward safety.

She will recover, it was said, unless pneumonia sets in.

JUDGE DISMISSES SHOPMEN'S SUIT

U. S. Circuit of Appeals Says Conspiracy Had Not Been Proven
Against Penny

Philadelphia, July 24. — Holding that a charge of criminal conspiracy had not been proved against the Pennsylvania railroad and its officers, the United States circuit court of appeals today dismissed equity suits by System Federation, No. 30, claiming to represent 60,000 shopcraft employees, and the clerks' organization, for the enforcement of wage increase and working condition decisions of the United States Railroad Labor board. The federation's suit was for a claim of $15,000,000 in back pay, which was said to have been based on the difference between the scale fixed in the agreement made by the railroad administration during the war and that paid by the company after the railroad was returned to private ownership.

The decision of the appellate court was an affirmation of the action of the federal district court several months ago dismissing the suits on the ground that federal courts had no jurisdiction to enforce decisions on orders of the labor board.

BIG WELCOME TO SMITH ON RETURN HOME

Parade Forced to Halt Because of
Number of Resident Who Turned Out to March Before
Governor

HAVE REAL FAITH

Demonstration Leaves Little Doubt of Its Spontaneous Unanimity and City's Belief in Chief
State Executive

Albany, July 14. — "Al" came home today.

More formally, Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, returned to the capital today after a month's absence, during which he was boomed for presidential nomination at the Democratic national convention, fought his battle to a deadlock, and then retired to permit nomination of a compromise candidate.

But there was nothing formal about the crowd which greeted Governor Smith when he stepped from his train at noon. And there was less formality about the demonstration for him tonight.

A street parade was started, but forced to halt before it had marched a half-hour because "Al's friends had turned out in such numbers the vandals reached the Executive Mansion long before the last organization had left the starting point. The route was curbed about a few more city blocks, and the procession was started on its way again.

Thousands were in line, and thousands more were spectators. The marchers apparently were not all of Governor Smith's political faith. Some of them won't vote for 16 years yet; others cast their vote when women suffrage went into effect, and some have voted a score of years or more.

Welcome Shows Real Faith in Smith.

Young boys marched along bearded men, carrying red fire and torches. Some were collarless and shirtless; their neighbors wore silk hats. Thousands walked on foot; hundreds more were in motor cars. Ten or a dozen bands blared "Glad Side, West Side," and when they stopped automobile sirens set up a continuous blast. Overhead aerial bombs exploded and along the way march cannon boomed and torpedoes cracked.

The city and the marchers were well placarded with "Welcome home, Al" signs, and the demonstration left little doubt of the spontaneous unanimity of the city's welcome to the governor and his belief in him.

When the procession tonight reached the Executive Mansion, William B. Hackett and members of the city and county Democratic organization left the line of march and joined Governor Smith and his family on the receiving stand.

Wants to Return to New York.

The combined efforts of Mayor Hackett and the cheering thousands finally moved the governor to make a speech.

He replied to the mayor's words of "welcome home," briefly. He thanked the mayor and the citizens for their welcome and said:

"My heart swelled up within me. I am grateful, more grateful than I have words to say."

In reply to the suggestion that there still was time for him to become the Democratic party's candidate for President and that he again should be a candidate for governor at least, the governor vetoed neither proposal but explained that he really wished to go back to his business in New York, become a "truckman" again, and so be able to "lay something aside for a rainy day."

"I hope to talk things over with the mayor and in other Democratic friends," he concluded. "And I hope to persuade them to let me become a sort of high private in the ranks, where perhaps I may still render service."

SHOOT HIMSELF IN HEAD

Loren Edmunds, Dependable Because of His Health, Takes Own Life as Means to Escape Hardship.

Hartwick, July 14. —Evidently disappointed because of continued ill health, Loren Edmunds, a life long resident of this locality, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head with a rifle early this morning. The man was missed from his home and search by his son, Ward, who had been staying with him for the past few days, revealed the lifeless body in the haymow on a barn on the farm. The discovery was made at 5:30 o'clock and Mr. Edmunds had probably been dead about an hour. He had been in poor health for a number of years and his actions lately had been so strange as to occasion remark.

Mr. Edmunds was born November 21, 1865, across the road from his late residence and was the son of Richard and Celia (Ward) Edmunds. His entire life had been spent on the same farm. Mr. Edmunds' first wife, whose maiden name was Parr, died a number of years ago and on May 31 of this year he married Mrs. Eva C. Risley, who survives, together with two sons, Carl Edmunds of Oneonta and Ward Edmunds of Unadilla, and one daughter, Mrs. Leta Miller of Oneonta.

The funeral will be held from the home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with Rev. A. H. Landmesser of the Methodist Episcopal church officiating. Burial will be made in the Hartwick cemetery.

COLORED STARS HERE TODAY

Fast Aggregation from Schenectady to Face Oneonta Giants at Neahwa Park at 4 o'clock.

Chapple Johnson's Colored Stars, a team which has taken the measure of Roy Thomas' Oneonta Giants several times this season, the last time being at Stamford yesterday when the dusky nine won an 11 to 6 victory, will be the attraction at Neahwa park this afternoon and a free hitting, snappy game is assured.

Chapple has a team of stars of the first magnitude and is giving the best teams in the state considerable trouble this year. The colored players have their slugging clothes on daily and can always be depended upon to hit often and hard. Ewing, the husky catcher, is one of two men to have hit a fair ball over the fence at Neahwa park and he has turned the trick twice.

The Giants are on a batting rampage, as was shown at Stamford yesterday, when they made 14 hits against strong pitching. Thomas is anxious to give the Stars a good trimming today and will send his men into the fray primed for a hard tussle.

CHAUTAUQUA SATURDAY

Advance Sale of Tickets Satisfactory—Junior Chautauqua of Central Interest.

The advance sale for the Redpath Chautauqua, which will open at Wilber park on Saturday next, has been satisfactory, according to officials of the committee of local guarantors, who report that people are very well impressed by the quality of the entertainments and lectures to be presented. Not all of the tickets have been sold, however, and sellers are urged not to let up in their efforts.

Reserved seat tickets will be placed on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office at 10 a. m. on Saturday. They may be bought at the tent in the afternoon.

The superintendent this year will be C. C. Baker of Syracuse. Miss Helen Dibble of Oneonta, who will be assisted by Miss Helen Dibble of Oneonta. The children will meet daily at 8:45 a. m. instead of at 9:30, as announced in the program.

Miss Mary Price will be the cashier and instructor in art craft work. The demonstrations this year will be devoted to basketry and wax work. Basketry is one of the most fascinating of crafts and is not difficult. Painting with sealing wax is the latest and most popular development of wax craft. Demonstrations for the ladies will be held by Miss Price on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings at 10 o'clock.

The Junior Chautauqua this year is based upon physical and health education for boys and girls. Through play and recreation the Chautauqua hopes to promote, not only the health and happiness of the children, but to instill in them such ideas of cooperation with those with whom they play, generosity to opposing team, fair play, honesty, etc., as will make them better citizens and leaders of our country in the future.

The program includes all the practical phases of health education, folk dancing, games, stunts and simple track events for the girls. Games, stunts, tumbling and track events will be divided into three groups: Older boys; older girls; smaller boys and girls.

The older boys and girls will be divided into two teams each and all games and contests will be played with the game organization. Points will be awarded a team each time it wins a contest; for having best attendance; for good sportsmanship, etc. At the end of the week each member of the team having the largest number of points will receive a certificate.

The first day there will be non-competitive games so that the children may become acquainted and have an opportunity to observe each other in play before choosing their captains at teams.

On the second day, in the forenoon, there will be a big baseball game for the boys; folk dancing for the girls and smaller group. Afternoon—Stunt day.

Third day, more stunts, competitive games, party games.

Fourth day, picnic—everybody goes, "picnic etiquette."

Fifth day, track events (individual competition), races, broad jump, baseball throw for distance, etc. Winners of first and second place in each event will receive a certificate.

Sixth day, final game contests and stunts.

Every Junior in Oneonta will want to take part in these sports and they should watch the Junior Chautauqua bulletin board.

AN UNUSUAL COINCIDENCE

Aged Husband and Wife Observe Joint Birthday Tomorrow at Home in Oneonta.

It is unusual that husband and wife have same birthday and not less so that both should survive to advanced years in that same companionship which from the first has been theirs to enjoy. This is the case of Mr. and Mrs. Penimore G. Bennett of this city, since the birthday of each will occur tomorrow, Wednesday, July 16. On that day Mr. Bennett will be 54 years of age, and his wife will be 73.

Friends in this city, and elsewhere throughout the county will be pleased to know that Mr. Bennett, despite more than fourscore years, is in unusually good health; and that Mrs. Bennett, who had been confined to bed some for the past three years, now so much improved that within a few days she has made a trip by auto to Cooperstown, and later to her old home in Worcester. That they may have many more years of life together is the wish of many friends.

Penimore B. Lynch, their grandson and his wife, who have been in the United States since the first earthquake in Japan, the rigors and anxieties of which both experienced, are with Mr. and Mrs. Bennett. They will remain until about August 1, when they leave for Vancouver, to sail August 14 for Shanghai, where Mr. Lynch will resume his duties with the International Banking Corporation.

ESCAPES AT DELHI

Delaware County Authorities Searching for Man Who Eluded Deputy Sheriff—Reward for Capture.

Delhi, July 14. —Raymond, alias Ernest, Weed, under indictment for sending threatening letters to Delhi people, escaped from Deputy Sheriff Stewart at about 5 o'clock this morning and at a late hour had not been apprehended. A reward of $200 for his capture has been offered.

Deputy Stewart took Weed to a former rooming place to get some clothes. While the lady of the house was tying the clothes into a bundle Weed jumped through the open back door and made good his escape in the darkness. It is believed that he stole an automatic revolver from the room where he got the clothes.

Weed was 35 years old and weighed about 145 pounds. He was dressed in brown clothing with tan shoes, blue polka dot shirt and dark grey cap. He had no money on his person.

The man was arrested last May and subsequently indicted by the grand jury for sending threatening letters. At the last term of supreme court he pleaded guilty, although protesting innocence, and was ordered held in custody for future disposition of his case.

FUNERAL OF MISS DYER

Many Distinguished Friends at Service Sunday Afternoon in Laurens.

West Laurens, July 14. — There was large attendance Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the funeral of the late Miss Christine E. Dyer, which was held at the home of her father, Lewis Dyer, about two miles west of Laurens village. Not only were there many present from Laurens and vicinity, but many relatives from a distance, and a goodly number of friends from Oneonta, where she was well known and much beloved. Tokens of the high regard in which she was held were the numerous floral tributes which beside those from relatives, neighbors and personal friends, include pieces from the Hibernians and Lady Macabees of Oneonta. The Walter store and employees and the Elmore Milling company of this city.

The service was conducted by Rev. J. C. Rankin, pastor of the Laurens Presbyterian church, of which she was a member. Mr. Rankin read suitable scripture selections and followed with a comforting address in which he paid deserved tribute to the deceased. Two hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "It Is Well with My Soul," were sung by a quartet from the Laurens church choir.

Interment was in the family plot in the Laurens cemetery, beside her mother, whose death by only three months preceded her own. The bearers were William and Fred Dyer and Arthur Hemmingsway of Norwich and Henry Morrell of South New Berlin, all cousins of the deceased.

Among those present from a distance were Mrs. D. A. Smith of Abol, Mass.; Miss Cecil Smith of Northampton, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevenson of Mohawk, the Messrs. What the World Is Doing

As Seen by Popular Mechanics Magazine:

Hats for Wear in Next Century Are Displayed in Paris

Designed for wear in the spring of 2000 A. D., styles of millinery shown at a ball in Paris were composed of massive arrangements of feathers and large clusters of leaves. One of the most popular models consisted of a decoration of gorgeous feathers that towered above the wearer's head and drooped gracefully to her shoulders. Gaudy headpieces of mosses and foliage also were displayed as fashions that would be the mode during the first years of the next century.

Hyena Strong but Cowardly, Runs from Small Dog

Although it is one of the strongest mammals, the hyena is a nervous animal and will often flee when pursued by a small dog. Only when cornered will it fight, but then it behaves badly. Because of its strange nature and its habit of living from refuse on village dumps and carousels left by other animals, the hyena is held in contempt among the natives of Asia and Africa, where it is most commonly found. The strength of its jaws is sufficient to crush the skull of a lion.

Wear on Gold Coins Results in Loss of Millions

What becomes of gold? It has many channels of disappearance, according to experts. Figures show that more than half of the annual output is employed in the fine arts and jewelry trade. Thousands of pounds are also used by dentists, one estimate being that over a ton is needed every year for the filling of teeth. Then money is worn away in handling, this loss being placed at $1,200,000 annually. Bank of England sovereigns are often tested and found to have lost much of the original weight. Of the immense quantities of the precious metal that has been buried away in the earth, it is believed comparatively little has ever been recovered.

The priests of Peru are said to have buried approximately $10,000,000 worth of treasure to preserve it from the clutches of their persecutors. None of this has been found. The tombs of the old kings of Egypt were treasure houses, immense quantities of gold and jewels being interred with them. It has been estimated by historians that Alexander the Great became the master of great boards of gold, all of which, so far as is known, has vanished.

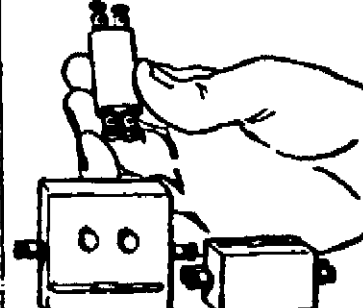

A Kink for Paperhangers

When hanging wall paper on a side wall it is necessary to see the edge of the paper from top to bottom in order to get the corner lap. This is very difficult to do when wearing spectacles, for it is impossible to see through them as well as with the naked eye. It has been found that this difficulty can be eliminated to a great extent by drawing a small ball and string along the edge of the paper as far from the edge as necessary to get the correct lap, and at a point about one-third of the length from the top. The ball can readily be seen and the paper hung against it. Only the slightest fraction of an inch has to be moved in hanging, and this lap can be pulled down so as to prevent the appearance of a perfect butt joint.

The Smallest Radio Set?

What is claimed to be the smallest radio set in the world has been built by an amateur in Providence, R. I. Spurred on by accounts of what others had accomplished in building small sets, he first built a set 2 in. long, 3 in. wide, and 1 in. high. This contained a fixed crystal, a phone condenser, and a single-side band-wound coil. His next attempt resulted in a set 2 in. long by 1 in. square, containing everything but the phone condenser, which was discarded as unnecessary. Tuning bars on top of these sets permit sunder up to 500 meters.

Cleaning and Peeling Potatoes

In some parts of the southern states, a novel and interesting method of cleaning and removing potato skins is used. The potatoes are placed in a pail half full of water and a number of rough stones are added. By stirring the potatoes and stones around in the water, the skins soon wear off due to the abrasive action of the stones, and the potatoes are washed clean.

Estimates show the total number of newspapers published in the world at 28 thousand.

HELD FOR DELHI BURGLARY

Man Giving Name of John Mayo Held After Hearing on Charge of Entering House of Wyant Frisbee.

Delhi, July 14. — A man giving the name of John Mayo was held for the next grand jury this morning after a preliminary examination into the charge that he unlawfully entered the home of Wyant Frisbee, who lives about four miles east of Delhi on the state road, on Sunday evening. He is being held in the county jail here.

According to the story told by Mr. Frisbee, his wife was awakened Sunday at about midnight and thought that she heard someone in the house. She awakened her husband, who made a hasty examination of the rooms of the house and found that many of the desk and sideboard drawers had been disarranged, that there was a light in the kitchen of the house, and that a hole had been cut in a screen in a kitchen window.

He stepped outside of the house and fired three shots in the air and saw a man going up the Bloomville road start to run. After a few minutes hesitation Mr. Frisbee jumped into his car and started after the man. When he overtook a pedestrian whom he thought to be the culprit Mr. Frisbee stopped and invited the short distance toward Bloomville and then turned around and went back to his home with his passenger beside him.

Immediately he notified the sheriff and in a short time about an hour after the robbery, the man, who gave the name of John Mayo, was lodged in the Delhi jail.
